

Computer Systems & Information Technology

Program Content:	This program is a planned sequence of instruction consisting of four occupational completion points. When the recommended sequence is followed, the structure is intended to prepare students to complete the CompTIA A+ industry certification. Sufficient coverage of advanced concepts and competencies will provide a summary of other industry certifications including but not limited to the CompTIA Network+ certification. Students learn through hands-on labs, simulation software labs, instructor-led lesson plans, and other learning resources. They work individually and in groups to complete the labs, work on projects, and build computer information systems.
